

I saw an image of Jesus pointing to a person(one at a time), and then an angel swooping in and picking them up. They were being translated, not raptured, and taken either to Giboa or to where God's Army will train, pre-rapture. This is only for the very faithful and obedient Christians.

If you have been waiting and leaning into the Lord you know that we are right around the corner from this moment of translation. It is time to go— finally! (And as a note, I will be reading this for accuracy)

I have been given many prophecies and had many instructions and deep Bible study over the past 30 days, since I was Anointed and then immediately sequestered by the Lord. I am sorry to those of you who contacted me in this time, I was told to not read or respond to any comments or questions, but only to interact with my family, and those few, the team who the Lord surrounded me with early on before anything prophetic ever began, just dreams.

I have not been on social media, or even opened You Tube in 30 days. But, much like Moses— who I do not claim to be like, only the pattern is similar in that the Lord spoke with him, and he delivered the info to the people, and then He went to be secluded with the Lord for 30 days after declaring that message. This time was so that the Lord could teach and train me without distraction. It has been an incredible time of learning directly for the Lord. I have seen many miracles, Have had the Lord teach me from His word things I have never seen, and I learned to listen and have even more faith than before, and the Lord has shown mighty things to come. In this short time I could never fully unload all that has been given to me over the past 30 days. It has filled 1 ½ journals and that is only what I have written down.

I was awakened this morning at 4:15, with image of Jesus directing Angels to collect people and then these words began spilling out of my pen onto the page. Please understand that over the past 30 days any words that came to me in the night, I had the express instruction of who was allowed to hear them or if they were to stay private. And for 30 days I have been specifically told to not allowed share those words with YouTube, but those words were specifically to prepare me for the next role I will have in Giboa or to encourage the team the Lord has given me. But today, I was told to share.

Previously, in my silence toward you, I was instructed that those days of my public silence, that the Lord God Almighty was testing hearts.
He could see who believed in men and who believed in Him
Who trusts in mens logic or their own logic and who trusts Him
Who wants their ears tickled and who just wants the truth
Who cares about man's calendar and who understands that God is on His own calendar
Who has true faith or no faith
This was a test
Will a person lean into Him for answers or turn to a person to bring clarity

The Lord told me that those who were Anointed before Oct 31st know so.
They have a tremendous peace since their earthy Anointing and they have been surrounded by God's Mighty angels and walls of warrior angels have been protecting them.
They have felt God's presence.
They have been reading scripture and praying and waiting for Him
He has said regarding people's hearts, "I see all things from on High"

He has driven many to this channel
I know there are many questions that people would love to ask me.
In honesty I have few things I can divulge
I have been in preparation for leadership and there are strategic things that are not to be shared.

What I can divulge is that the more I know, the less I know.
I understand the frailty of human insight and perception and that only God Himself holds the answers and understanding of what is unfolding.

To clarify the most simple things... These are the things I was told I can share.

1. My initial understanding of the timeline in the words I was given are not correct. The words I was given are correct, for the Lord is always right, but following human logic, and hopefulness, I misinterpreted some things. I am sorry for any confusion, I should have slowed down to evaluate first, this is very new to me, and with experience comes wisdom. The Lord expressed that He knew this is how I would interpret it and He had a plan to use it to evaluate people.

2. Yes, there was an Anointing on Oct 23 for me, but it was not as I perceived it would be, I did not go to Giboa for this event, although, there is a separate Anointing in Giboa soon. I was taught through a study in Ephesians many things, but focusing on Ephesian Chapter 3:10, just as the manifold wisdom of God was made know to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places, by the church... the anointing that I and others received was to make known the status and consequences to the principalities and powers of heaven, and that any rogue elements of team s that come against an anointed since their anointing, are taken off the chess board of the end times and sent directly to the pit. The anointing in Giboa, I was shown the amazing place this takes place and told of the process to come and that it will be soon. So those are two separate events.
3. My main misunderstanding comes in that as the words run together, much like the Bible, the pace needs to be slowed down and evaluated to see the true meaning. Yes, the Anointed will go to Giboa before bombs fall, that does not mean before any conflict, that does not mean before any bombs in buildings blow up, or any invasion, but before they fall from the sky. Also, much like how days, weeks, months or decades can be skipped with a comma in the Bible, so in this case the same can also apply. For instance the month's mentioned for the open ears of the ½ borns and the rebels, may in fact be accurate, but the year may not be the same year we perceive, or the calendar not how we understand. We tend to read and perceive it to be simultaneous and sequential, but looking into Old Testament prophecies, the elements fulfilled were not done so in order. I was told, "I am the same yesterday, today and tomorrow, I do not change." Regarding how the written word is to be interpreted.
4. As for leadership— I know some seek me to lead here on earth before the translation. However, I am no more than a scribe. Even as I write these very words to be spoken, the very words are being fed to me by the Holy Spirit, these are not my words. I do not speak on my own strength or agency, but I am simply a servant of The Most High God, the one and only Lord God

Almighty. So on this earth, I am not in a leadership role of any sort, just one that pens what I hear as a scribe... but when I go to Giboa this will change. But for my remaining time on the earth understand that I have no desire for nor have any leadership responsibilities. I am just to pass on information as I have received.

5. (urgent visual aid) I was told that just before the translation that I will receive a very important message and it will be simple and spontaneous and those that obey the words will ALL be taken by angels at the same time that the Anointed are translated to Giboa, but they will be taken to a different location and train to be in God's Army. Just as the Anointed are associated with the tribe of Benjamin, God's Army is associated with the tribe of Dan and these warriors will be given mighty skills to help in the tribulation.

- The directives I will be told will be simple and much like the Israelites walking around Jericho which took true faith and obedience and a tolerance for ridicule by those who do not understand, the simple instructions will take the same type of obedience.
- Those not obeying in faith will be left behind when the bomb falls, pre-world-wide rapture.
- Anyone not hearing my voice, which is likely since this is a small channel, that is a Christian will also hear the words I will say, directly from the Lord to their mind.
- Anyone who does obey, will be considered an Obedient Faithful, and will be spared and taken at the time of the Anointed's departure, before any bombs drop.
- Anyone who does not obey is left will have one of two options. Once people are found to be missing, they will either immediately repent or grow bitter and angry toward the Lord. I was told this is a persons choice, and each choice has a just consequence.
- The Repentant Faithful will become the Leaders of the Faithful that will be surrounded by Angels and protected and provided for. They will see miracles like that of Goshen and they will be the living examples of those that God uses to soften the hearts of the ½ born.

- But those that respond in bitterness and anger for being left, they will miss the world wide rapture, and they will become part of the Rebellious ones that are left behind for the Great tribulation, they will be tested, tried, become hidiers, or be made martyrs, until they finally repent and submit fully to the Lord. Of course the Lord will protect their salvation, because He is faithful.
- I was told that that different people need a different amount of pressure in order to finally give up everything and finally have full faith in the Lord with true humility— they will be saved, but it is our own personal choice and how we react to His words and directions and we how express our faith, whether it is full faith or half hearted faith that determines our path and how hard it will be on us in these last days before we go Home— it is free will, the choices determine how the process goes, although eternal salvation is not affected! The eternal station of a person will be affected, but the thing is, God knows the heart and who is doing a thing just to receive a gift or station and who is doing a thing out of pure faith and desire to serve Him— so there will be no faking it. You cannot fake it with God.

If there is time and ability, I will try and put out some of the dreams, prophesies and words that I received from the Lord, as He allows, from the past 30 days.

But please understand that I will only put out what He deems fine to share. Also understand that I will not field most inquiries via msg or email. It distracts from my current calling which is to stay dialed in and listen. It is a heavy responsibility to listen to the Lord for the specific message that relates to us leaving and that which has a specific directive. So I need to stay focused on God, which really includes staying quiet and not cluttering my mind with other people's info, questions, etc.

I may have administrators look at comments and emails, or I may be instructed to turn off comments and not look at emails, as I was for the past 30 days, I do not know, I am just following along as you are, trying to be obedient. I do know that any choices made will be solely be based on my directives from the Lord. It is likely that comments will eventually be turned off before we leave, because the comments may be vulnerable to mistruths by those left behind.

Again, I am sorry, and bring my apologies to any of you that in my human weakness were misled on the time line, and any stress that may have caused you. I really did want to come and apologize earlier, and I am sorry that I could not read or respond to your inquiries. I do feel bad that I could not reach out and settle even the most simple questions, but I was bound in seclusion by the Lord. I found comfort knowing that the Lord said He would work through my errors with people.

My Current Mindset regarding the many words given...

I'm sure if you look at all that came in, in such a short time, and see in the videos how much of a toll this process was taking on me physically, it is easy to have the understanding that I was doing the best that I could in the time restraints that I had. However now that I have reflected on the words and been taught many other things that have brought wisdom, I have an altered perspective.

What I can say is that all of the dreams, and prophecies and teaching I received and miracles I've seen and Angels I've interacted with and cross prophecies and dreams within my family and small support group, in the past 30 days have taught me this... the prophecy is true, though our human perception of how it will go may not be accurate, the prophecy is true. And the clock is still marching forwards quickly as team satan has not slowed on its goal of marching toward total global control.

Personally instead of looking at months and trying to figure out dates and precise times with my own logic, I am resting in the knowledge that God's time is not man's time, and it will unfold exactly as it should. I take rest in this knowing the God is in control and that I only have to stay dialed into Him and follow along. So I take the prophecy as a guide map, a forest for the trees view, to explain the big picture of what is to come.

May God bless you and keep you until Christ's arrival. May you seek His face diligently and with full faith and obedience as the final stressors head our way.

He is the only strength and provision we can trust and that does not fail. Him and Him alone.

Be encouraged church! We live in the most amazing of times. The final times of miracles, and messages and dreams like never seen before in History! We will witness the return of the Lord Jesus Christ!
