It is Time to Hear

It is time to hear.
I God have come.

Some animals have no cares.
But others I require to be altered to change.

One looks at a zoo & it is easy to see some animals are more of a threat than others to humans.

Some have massive impenetrable accommodations.
Others invite visitors to come and pet.

This is reality.
My animals serve as a guide to how a person should need to prepare to be alone with them.

An elephant is kind but can run over a human with mere weight.
A tiger is extreme & deadly w the swipe of the paw.
Some animals are only deadly if approached.
Some are reactive like a snake or a zebra.

I have made animas with gifts & defenses to level the playing field.

Humanity is similar.

There are some people who are deadly and others to be approached with caution
Others mild and safe.
Do they each have gifts and defenses to level the playing field?
Yes.

Many of My Own—
Lack the deadly skills—
Or they have learned to not be that way.

Mine seem mild.
But they rely on My Holy Angels to protect them.

To lay down your natural weapons & rely only on your spiritual ones is not common—
But most useful.
This is a sign that the person believes in Me & Trusts Me.

There are times they get hurt from the other “animals” who have not decided to lay down their natural defenses.

But generally —

To set aside the natural for the spiritual makes for a perfected human.

Actions.
Not reactions.

Wisdom.
Not primal response.

Trust in Me—
Do not trust in yourself.

Be like one of the animals in the petting zoo.
Trust.

I will provide your defense & make you cute and attractive to others—
So that they can be refreshed by you.

Is there risk involved?

Sure.

But in general—

Both the animal in the petting zoo & the person who visits benefits from the interaction.

As the time approaches to share Me with others, this will take some Faith in Me.

I will bring you people that you may not typically interact with.

Trust Me.

Put on your Spiritual Armor—

And be flexible

And calm

And I will protect you

And change the people I bring in the meantime.

Is this a risk?

Sure.

But, in the time to come—

Some risks will need to be taken.

Listen & I will guide you.

Let Me use you to change another—

And to share Salvation with them.

Be ready for use.

I wish to draw people together.

Trust Me.

Some of you are shy.

Others have been isolated from others.

You need others to get thru what is to come.

Others can pray with you—

And band together for support.

Pray that I bring together ones of like minds—

No matter how unlikely.

Together you can do more for those who will be ready to hear about Me.

Pray to find each other.

God.
